Content

This interactive workshop will be a blend of seminar and hands on Direct Composite restorations.

The emphasis will be on techniques relating to the provision of effective, aesthetic and long term predictable direct composite restorations.

Placement of direct composite veneers, masking discoloured teeth, build-up of a class IV anterior cavity and posterior class II direct composite restorations will be covered with hands on exercises, backed up by long term clinical examples of patients treated by Dr Banerji at his private practice in Ealing London.

Direct composite placement, contouring and polishing techniques will be presented along with the summary of the supporting evidence.

Applications of direct composites in contemporary clinical practice will also be presented.
